Both Companies & Employees Benefit

01 Attractiveness as an Employer

In an era where flexible work models are increasingly important, workation can be a decisive advantage in the competition for top talent.

02 Employee Retention and Satisfaction

Workations can increase employee satisfaction and retention. Satisfied employees are more loyal and less likely to leave the company.

03 Increased Productivity

Studies show that a workation can boost employee productivity. A new environment can stimulate creative thinking and increase motivation.

04 Improved Work-Life Balance

In normal life, the balance between work and leisure is often conflict-ridden. Workation combines relaxation, quality of life, and joy in work.

05 Health and Well-being

Rising sick days already cost companies 1 trillion euros according to the WHO. Studies show that workation reduces stress and improves health.

Employees have the opportunity to experience new cultures and broaden their perspectives. This can lead to personal growth and a broader worldview.

What Our Customers Say

David Conners

Web Developer

"I joined this workation program as the home office in Berlin is just boring and here I live in a tropical lush paradise. The living costs in Thailand are much lower compared to the same standard of living in Germany. As a foodie, I indulge in delicious Thai food and enjoy all the different tastes on offer."

Philipp Georges

Web Developer

"My dream has come to reality as I am excited to travel and explore new regions. I found a way to combine work and passion in my life. I am so happy to have found this way of living & working. The local host Max and his whole team are very supportive and a great facilitator for this opportunity."
